Of Richard Folwell, in Philadelphia,

FOR SUBSCRIBING TO THE

JOURNALS OF CONGRESS,

FROM THE COMMENCEMENT

Of the American War, in 1774, to the present time,

INCLUDING

The Reports of Heads of Departments, of Committees, and other Official and Private Papers of that Body, now first permitted to be made public.

TERMS.

THE work will be printed on a fine paper, and a new neat type, in large octavo.

Each volume will contain above 500 pages, neatly bound and lettered.

Uniformity in size, paper, and binding, will be observed throughout the work; so that, while the subscribers become possessed of a valuable record, an ornament may be added to their libraries.

The price to subscribers will be 2 dolls. 75 cts. per volume, in boards, and 3 dolls. whole bound; but, as the publisher does not intend to print many more than the number subscribed for, a considerable rise on the price may be expected to non-subscribers.

Each volume will contain about one third less of letter-press than the original edition; but, as the publisher is not yet enabled to determine the extent of the Private Journals, which he may be allowed to make public, he cannot ascertain the number of volumes which will comprise the work.

☞ Payments to be made on delivery of each volume.

Subscribers will have it at their option, either to subscribe for the whole of the Journals, up to the present time, or to those only of the Old Congress prior to the organization of the Federal Government.

IN all countries, the proceedings in the commencement of their governments, are lost in darkness and security, owing to a carelessness, in the succeeding generation, to preserve the public records, and the attention of the nation, in these rude ages, being called off from their domestic concerns, to engage in wars and conquest. Of what infinite value would the laws of Alfred be, had they been transmitted to our days? Time, that destroys every thing, enhances the value of well authenticated public records, and renders them almost inestimable. It is hoped, that Americans will, therefore, chearfully contribute their assistance in transmitting to posterity the labours of their ancestors—founders of the Columbian nation.

 The work will certainly be advanced with expedition and promptitude. The following will show the support it has already acquired:

"Philadelphia, June 15, 1798.

"To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States.

"The MEMORIAL of the Subscribers, Citizens, &c. of Philadelphia,

"Respectfully sheweth,

"That having, in our respective avocations, frequent occasions to recur to the Journals of Congress, we experience inconvenience by the scarcity of them: That we understand that Richard Folwell, printer, of Philadelphia, has had it in contemplation to print that public record; and that he hath obtained partial countenance from many individuals; but that he has delayed prosecuting the work, in expectation of encouragement from government, that may adequately indemnify him. We, therefore, respectfully solicit, as the publication is necessary to be disseminated among public bodies, that Congress will, in their wisdom, render him such additional encouragement, to that which he has obtained from private individuals, as to enable him to proceed with the work, so that your Memorialists may be enabled to purchase copies of that record for themselves.

A POETICAL EPISTLE TO THE AUTHOR

[In introducing this celebrated work to the Gentlemen and Ladies of America, I have endeavored to give it a dress proportioned to its distinguished merit, and to the taste of those for whose amusement and delight it is intended. No expence has been spared in the publication; and I flatter myself that the work does not yield, either in paper or print, to any one ever published in America —— This edition has an advantage over some former ones, as it contains by way of notes, the minor productions of the author; and, it has an advantage over every other edition, in the Poetical Epistle, which is prefixed to it, and which must be extremely gratifying to every lover of literature in this country, as it is a proof that there are Americans who have the taste to admire, the justice to applaud, and the talents to rival the Geniuses of other nations.

THE

SWIFT-SURE,

A NEW LINE OF STAGES,

To run daily between PHILADELPHIA and NEW-YORK, by the short and pleasant Road of BUSTLETON, NEWTOWN, SCOTCH-PLAINS SPRINGFIELD AND NEWARK.

THE excellence of this Road, the populousness of the country through which it passes, with sundry other advantages, which render it so far preferable to the Old Road through Bristol, Brunswick, &c. long ago suggested the propriety of its becoming the Grand Thorough-fare from Philadelphia to New-York. During the present year, a minute survey of it has been taken, and its superiority over the Old Road, both in Winter and Summer, has been clearly ascertained. There are good bridges over all the other waters but the Delaware, and here the crossing is performed with great safety and in less than half the time required at the Trenton ferry. This Road is several miles shorter than the Old Road, but this is amongst the least of its advantages, because daily experience proves to us, that dispatch as well as comfort in travelling principally depends on the goodness of the road and the levelness of the country, and, in these respects, the New Road is, beyond all comparison, the best. It presents none of those rocky hills, which render the Old Road so fatiguing between the Delaware and Newark. The soil, too, for the far greater part, is such as to produce but little mud in winter, and very little dust in summer, which circumstance, added to the beauty of the country and a considerable proportion of shade, will render travelling in the latter season peculiarly agreeable.

The SWIFT-SURE will start at 6 o'clock every morning (Sundays excepted) from the GREEN TREE, opposite the Lutheran Church, North Fourth Street, Philadelphia. It will go through Frankford to Bustleton, where it will stop to breakfast; from Bustleton it will go through Newtown to Pennytown to dinner; from Pennytown through Hopewell, Millstone, Bound-brook, Quibbletown and Plainfield, to Scotch-Plains to lodge. The next morning it will stop at Springfield to breakfast, from whence it will go through Newark, and arrive at New-York by noon.

Fare for passengers, 5 Dollars,
Way passengers, 6 cents per mile.

Each passenger is allowed to take on 14lbs of baggage carriage free; but all other baggage, taken only a passenger will be charged at 4 cents per pound weight.

With respect to Packages sent on without passengers, the proprietors presume they have adopted a regulation, which, though unknown to other Lines of Stages, they think must meet with general approbation.—They pledge themselves to make good every package on the following conditions. The person who delivers the package at the office shall see it entered in the Stage Book, for which entry he shall pay 6 cents; he will then state the value of the package, and pay, (exclusive of the carriage) one per cent on the value, as insurance, and for which he will receive a receipt. Thus, for instance, if he estimates his package at one dollar, he will pay one cent, and if at one hundred dollars he will pay one dollar insurance, and in like proportion for packages of any other value.

Very few persons, it is presumed, will dislike this regulation; it will however, be optional with every one to avail himself of this security or not. But the proprietors think it right to state very explicitly, that they will be responsible for the safe delivery of no package, which is not regularly entered, and for which an insurance receipt cannot be produced.

In the distribution of the Route the greatest care has been taken to fix on such places and Taverns as shall always afford good accommodation and entertainment for the passengers at the most reasonable rates. The Stages are all well-equipped, furnished with fleet and steady horses, and committed to the care of intelligent, sober and obliging drivers. The Proprietors themselves live at the different towns and villages where the Stages will stop, so that the conduct of the persons they employ will be continually an object of their attention. They will take care also to see, that the passengers are well provided for and politely treated at the Taverns, and that no sort of chicanery or insolence shall be practised upon them: in short, they are resolved, that neither pains nor expence shall be wanting to render the SWIFT-SURE the very best Line of Stages in America.

By this Day's Mail.

BOSTON, June 3.

For T. Russell's Commercial Gazette.

MR. RUSSELL,

THE letter from Europe, published in your last, is deserving the attention of every one who wishes well to his country. The probable plan of operations on the part of France, there pointed out, cannot be too vigilantly guarded against. Our national independence, the fruit of so much toil, and treasure, and blood, may be lost in one unwary hour; and tears and penitence, and even manly struggles, forever after in vain recal the fond reality. The seductive arts of France have already made almost half Europe a scene of vice and misery. Slavery—slavery to wretches growling with the warmest passions that can actuate the human heart, is entailed upon those nations which have received the pestilential breath of French fraternity. What shall we do to be saved? is the question which each American should put to himself. The answer is, and ought to be: First prostrate yourselves before that Almighty Being who decideth the fate of Empires—implore pardon for past transgressions, and endeavour to turn from the ways of wickedness and error—discard as far as your influence extends, all the impious and horrid notions of the French revolution—cherish the institutions of your fathers—weigh well each day your duty as Christians, as subjects, and as men—give your hearty support to the wise and virtuous rulers of the land—consider that the authority which you have delegated, and which is used only for good, ought never to be impeded, much less rashly snatched from the hands of those to whom it is solemnly committed—if a foreign emissary arrives among you, and assures you he is as much your friend as your own government, set him down for a deceiver who would destroy you—bear constantly on your minds, that, to talk of national friendship is as ridiculous, as to imagine love to exist between distant rocks. By pursuing steadily a course of this kind, you will humanly speaking, ensure a continuance of your present political and religious privileges; while a deviation from it, will hurry you to that vortex, from whence now issue the groans of so many of the republics of the elder world.

The Directory finding themselves foiled in their system of menace and outrage towards these states, have taken the retrogade motion which has been so fatally successful in the cases of Genoa, Geneva, of all Switzerland and of Italy. In conformity to this were the propositions on their part for a new embassy to be sent to Paris—propositions which they did not mean should be acceeded to by our government. They were therefore preparing a garb of hypocritical sanctity for a new envoy to us, who was to come over a picture of grief and dejection, that the government of the United States was so averse to a reconciliation; while the Directory desirous of nothing but peace, harmony and justice, had waved all etiquette and all dignity, and notwithstanding the hauteur with which their pacific advances had been treated, had sent him to make one last effort. What measure they will now first pursue, it is difficult to say—the President's nomination must have greatly disconcerted them; but I am still inclined to think they will persevere in sending an envoy, notwithstanding his language must be some what different from what they first contemplated.

AMERICAN INDEPENDENCE.

It is said that the Hon. Mr. AMES will accept his appointment to the Council Board. We sincerely congratulate the public upon this occasion. The services of this accomplished statesman, patriot, and orator, cannot be too highly valued.

The Circuit Court commenced their term in this town, on Saturday last. At 11 o'clock, this day the Hon. Judge Chace will pronounce a Charge to the Jury.

We are unhappy that it is not in our power to announce any thing more favourable concerning the health of His Excellency Gov. Sumner, who still remains extremely reduced by a dangerous and obstinate disorder.

As an instance of the wisdom and policy of defensive measures, we note that from the 1st to the 31st May, last past, there have arrived in the District of Boston, from foreign ports,

Ships,	17
Barques,	2
Brigs,	27
Schooners,	37
Sloops,	5
Total,	88

all freighted with valuable cargoes, and wafted home under the protection of our own guns. On the score of profit & loss, who have saved millions by arming; in point of energy and national spirit, our gain is incalculable. "Resist the Devil, and he will flee from thee," is as true applied to the French, as to Lucifer.

NEW-YORK, June 6.

COMMUNICATION.

The citizens of this state cannot be too much commended for the late manifestation of their zeal and discernment, in restoring to it, the character of Federalism which it had hitherto hazarded—the assurance we possess, that with common industry, our cause can always be rendered secure, is a subject of pious congratulation; it still however is to be lamented, that in proportion as active exertions become apparently unnecessary, the vicissitude to apathy and indifference succeeds—We vainly imagine that one conquest over Jacobinism is conclusive of the impotency and harmlessness of democratic artifice and French intrigue—this credulity is as dangerous as it is unfounded. The temper of opposition is too inveterate to be overcome by a partial defeat; the seed is not yet destroyed; and while a grain remains, cultivators will be found to encourage and promote its growth. At present it is to be apprehended, that it is sufficiently general to unite among us, what most we have to dread, A FRENCH MINISTER—The disposition of the Directory towards us, has ever been regulated upon the principle and hope of co-operation here; and it is not to be doubted that at this period they would want respectable support. In addition to their declared devotees there are many whom we consider now as supporters of our administration, who it is feared would be deceived by the shadow of returning friendship, and seduced by the appearances of truth and sincerity; many who, ignorant, or, regardless of their true interests, and the importance of national character, would be forward in proposing large cessions for an untimely and insecure Peace. This may be deemed anticipating ills; but be assured, the Directory are not uninformed of our national pulse and sentiment—Spies and Informers are not wanting to afford them all friendly and necessary aid; while the evil is delayed let us cooly reflect; contemplate the means that have been employed for the ruin of other happy republics; and recal their number; this consideration will inspire us to be prepared in preventing the United States of America from being added to the long catalogue of ONCE INDEPENDENT—NOW, MISERABLE EMPIRES.

Yesterday arrived in town from Philadelphia, Mr. Liston, His Britannic Majesty's Minister to the United States. It is said he is on his way to the northward.

By a passenger, on board the ship Argus, arrived yesterday in 40 days from St. Sebastian, we are informed, that the French Government has issued a proclamation declaring that all Americans taken in armed ships shall suffer imprisonment.

We do not learn, that the Argus brings any thing worthy of note, excepting the above.

By the ship Argus, Capt. Ward, arrived last evening from St. Sebastians, we have received files of different French Papers from the first of January to the 9th of March, which we shall examine, and make translations of such articles as appear interesting.

We have also received (in a pamphlet) "a Memorial, addressed, by Perignon, to the Minister of Justice, in behalf of Capt. Thos. Talbut, a Citizen of the United States," respecting the brig Tryal, from Philadelphia, bound to Bilboa, in Spain, and put into Bayonne in distress, where she appears to have been seized by the French government.—Of this we shall give a Translation.

To the Captain we are indebted for the following interesting Marine Intelligence:

LIST of American Vessels in BAYONNE, the 20th of April:

Brig Tryal, Talbert, of Philadephia, and schr. Alligator, Alden, of New-York—on trial.

Brig Eliza, Woodbury, of Salem; brig Mary, Howard, of New-York; ships Fame, Rust, of Portland; and Adalade, Mun, of Baltimore—waiting for trial.

Schr. Alert, Oliver, of Beverly, and schr. Rising States, Bradford, of Dunbury—condemned.

Ship Pearl, Latimer, of New-York—on trial.

Schr. Molly, Stevens, of Marblehead, commissioned for 1-3—and schr. Maria, Coal, of ditto, for 1-4—laying at a small port 12 miles from Bayonne.

Brig Molly, Kelly, of Philadelphia—at Passage, on trial.

Ship Fame, Story, of New-York—at St. Sebastian, on trial.

Vessels left in PASSAGE and ST. SEBASTIAN, 25th of April, not captured:

Ship Superb, Lee, for Boston, at Passage—to sail in 10 days.

BALTIMORE, June 5.

Yesterday noon, during the races, Mr. Peter Benicue, inn-keeper, near the fort, committed suicide in the most uncommon and shocking manner. While his house was crouded with company, he deliberately unstocked an English Musquet, took his shot bag and powder horn, and walked the distance of about three hundred yards into some bushes, where it appears, he loaded the barrel, and striking up a fire, lodged the lower end in the flames, while he rested his breast on the muzzle: as soon as the explosion took place, the whole charge was lodged immediately in the pit of his stomach; and he appears to have expired instantly. An additional horror was added to the scene, by the wads having set fire to his cloathes, which burnt the body in the most shocking manner. A coroner's inquest was immediately held, but we have not learnt their verdict.

ON petition of George Hill to the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas for the county of Philadelphia, for the benefit of the act of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania passed the 4th day of April 1798, entitled an act providing that the person of a debtor shall not be liable to imprisonment for debt after delivering up his estate for the benefit of his creditors, unless he hath been guilty of fraud or embezzlement—said Court have appointed the 24th inst. at ten o'clock in the forenoon to hear him and his creditors, at the state house or wheresoever the said Court shall then be holden.

The Gazette.

PHILADELPHIA,

FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 7.

It is said that the villain Iago, (sometime secretary to the Governor of Cyprus) despairs of the success of that compost of lewdness and debauchery, on whom all his hopes rested. His visage wont to "cream and mantle, as a standing pool," now grins horribly a ghastly smile,—and he is ready to say ——'s occupation's gone. When such wretches tremble, the jubilee of virtue must surely be at hand.

We learn, that old Ill-pause has profited nothing by his excursions. The people, now irritated by his overbearing insolence and oppression, now disgusted by his crouching meanness and servility, cry out, where least it was to be hoped, "Fellow, be gone! we will not brook thy rule!"

The times (so continuously out of joint) seem at length to be on the approach towards a renovation of that state, which the illusions of a lunatic illumination led mankind to exchange in a breath for a system founded on the toils of sages thro' several thousand years. It is found out of Demagogues, the assiduous apostles of desolation and death, that the sedition they preach, is the craft by which they have their wealth; and, as the inveteracy of a man awakened from a destructive and detestable delusion, against those who led him astray, and their abominable heresies, seldom knows any bounds, it were easier, for Janus, Collot d'Herbois, or Fouquier Tinville to pass for honest men and christians, than it were to charm the terrible, though just indignation of the victims of delusion against their seducers.

An idea has been taken up by many persons, who, remembering the ancient adage "ira amantium redintegratio est amoris," believe it still just and applicable, that the craft of the old enemy of mankind, so abundantly infused into his clump-footed representative, will triumph over American honesty and simplicity, and that our quondam sister republic, (whom God confound) will yet draw very tight round us the cords of her friendship. Against such an issue, we would fain hope something operative might be expected from the wisdom and the majesty of the people. It is not easy for us to believe that they have made up their minds to such a state of things,—that they are fatigued with the trouble and expence of independence, and cowardly enough to yield to the Vandals because Rome is sufficiently rich to afford to pay tribute, or that they are asinine enough to submit themselves to the domination of the bloody Guillotine, because the gentle Barras, honest Merlin, or the truth-loving Talleyrand will tell them, like the assassin sent by the brutal Philip to murder his own son, that "it is all for their own good."

The ancient Pistol, were he now alive, would stand as fair a chance as almost any character on record, for becoming the patron and tutelar deity of democracy. His courage and his honor, seem to entitle him, above all other heroes, to their admiration and preference, and if originality and merit had always their due, bully Pistol would certainly grace with his name one of the Complementary Sansculottides of the Republican calender.

It is said that Buonaparte has entered Jerusalem, and planted there the Tree of Liberty. In the earlier annals of the holy city, we read of a barren figtree, and this modern wicked stick of wood, without a divine curse, will soon resemble its condemned predecessor. The tree of French Liberty is deadly hemlock. It is like the fabled branch of the Roman poet. Each rustle of its leaves is a groan, and its sap is blood. Let Buonaparte to plant, and his associate ruffians water, such a baleful sucker cannot increase. It will be, in the sublime language of prophecy, as an oak, whose leaf fadeth, and there shall she great owl make her nest and lay, and there also shall the vultures be gathered.

MR. FENNO,

WHEN I addressed a few lines, through the medium of your paper, to the Board of Health, I did not imagine that I should give any body the smallest offence; and least of all that what I had written would subject me to the suspicion of being an outrageous democrat; as this is as different from my real character as light from darkness, and the proposition itself, if it has any thing to do with politics, has rather an aristocratic phiz.

As the Board consists of some of the most respectable characters in the city, who are justly considered by their fellow-citizens as the principal guardians of the public health, I always thought it proper that they should have an absolute controul over the Port physicians, on whose faithful co-operation so much depends. These physicians are paid for their services, and it is necessary they should be responsible to some authority, more efficient than the Governor, who has always fled from danger on its first appearance, and is often so indisposed at his country seat, as not to be spoken with. To whom then could this authority be so properly transferred as to the Board of Health, who are always at the port of danger; many of whose members had distinguished themselves by their humanity, firmness and activity in the melancholy fall of 1798; and who sought no other recompence for their past exertions than the approbation of their own minds. It is not common, neither is it natural, for men who take so dangerous and troublesome an office on themselves, without fee or reward, wantonly to abuse their authority. Nor can I see the reason why any person, who has nothing in view but the common safety, should be so much alarmed at the amendment proposed, unless he wished to render the Port physicians altogether unaccountable. Their responsibility to the Governor I consider as a mere shadow; for it is well known that many men have been appointed to offices by his Excellency, and have enjoyed them for many years, contrary to the general opinion, as well as the peace and honor of the State.

The instances of the abuse of power, exemplified in the former single legislature of Pennsylvania, and in the late execrable French convention, are as strong as any the Philadelphian could have adduced against democratic assemblies, but I cannot agree that they have much relation to the present case. However, when I wrote before, I had not once considered the subject in a political view, or even consulted the Constitutional code in making up my opinion. It was the awful state of the city, threatened by the ravages of a desolating pestilence, that occupied my attention; and with this impression, I considered as lawful and proper, any measure that tended to our preservation.

But considered in a constitutional light, I see nothing wrong or novel in the proposition. There are many other offices that are not in the Governer's appointment, over which, therefore, he has no controul; and I know of none that could so properly be taken from him, as the appointment of Port physicians; or any other hands in which it could so safely and consistently be reposed, as in the Board of Health, who are appointed to superintend the execution of every part of the law. In case of misconduct, and who is impeccable, it would hardly be proper that the Board should desert their post in the hour of danger, and spend their time in waiting on the Governor with their complaints, to go through the irksome process of finding and proving, when the enemy had entered the premises, and was spreading havoc and dismay from house to house.—No! the evil would require the promptest remedy; and I repeat it again, no man or body of men can be so capable of judging with truth and certainty as the Board of Health.

Before I conclude I will just add, that it is far from me to wish to excite jealousies, or to throw the apple of discord between the Board of Health and the Port Physicians: on the contrary I shall rejoice sincerely if they unite together in perfect harmony, to guard us against the approaches of the enemy in every quarter: and this I have no doubt they will accomplish, if they attend with due vigilance to the avenue where the enemy hitherto has always entered.

I had written so far when a second reply, by another hand, appeared in your Gazette, and inclined me to delay the publication, from an expectation of seeing something more on the subject, that one answer might serve the whole. I have not been disappointed: the Philadelphian, as he stiles himself, has taken up the pen a second time, to refute me, and to defend the pernicious doctrine of domestic origination. I suspect the author is one of those creatures, called Young Doctors, and that he has been taught by his master, as a leading precept, to make proselites, and to adhere to his errors with all the pertinacity, and unblushing impudence of a French Philosopher.

There is so great a similarity in the conduct of these medical innovators, and the French Revolutionists, that I suspect that they are scions of the same wicked stock, and that it will not be amiss briefly to trace the analogy. The one, while he is carrying blasphemy, oppression, plunder and devastation through the earth, has the audacity to declare that he is contending for the freedom and happiness of mankind:

"As if the villain was born no ties can bind
"In private life, can cherish all his kind."

The other, while he is contending with the obstinacy of a fiend for an opinion, which, if generally adopted, will render Philadelphia "a city forsaken" has the effrontery to profess himself her friend. They both engage likewise with weapons forged in the same manufactory; abstract speculations; fanciful theories: that will not bear the test of fact and experience.

If these gentry, in the numerous publications they had vomited from the press, had brought a single fact to prove the existence of the yellow fever in Philadelphia from 62 to 93, or accounted for its suspension during the healthful interval; if they had explained the reason, why it first appeared in the vicinity of the shipping, an airy situation, instead of the dirty, confined alleys, and the filthy suburbs of the city; why also it had made such ravages in Wilmington, Marcus-Hook, and Chester, open, airy villages;—or if they had proved that the atmosphere of Philadelphia, notwithstanding the great improvement of the city and the circumjacent country, in every respect that regards salubrity, was grown more unhealthy, they might boast of sometime like an argument. But they have done nothing of this kind: it would be reasoning too much like common men. All they have written, and we all know they have written enough, has been about some newly discovered agents in the air, Gas, and Phlogiston, which may exist, or may not exist, for ought I know, but which I am sure were as harmless as the Genii of Fairy-land, until these wise Doctors thought proper to give them "a local habitation, and a name," and to assign them certain works of death to perform.

If the opinion of these speculators in science, these Doctors of occult qualities, has any truth in it, the quarantine law, which employed the Legislature so many weeks to mature, is not only useless but pernicious, and ought to be repealed. It is a folly to stop the vessels from coming up one day, if the yellow fever is an indigenous disorder: for if it should not be imported by the shipping, such is the poisonous state of Philadelphia, and such the sickly temperature of its air, it will be generated in our chambers and families. This is so absurd and so gloomy an opinion, so replete with ruin to our lives and estates, that I am really amazed any man, who inculcates it, will dare to call himself a Philadelphian.

I guess what the secret is to alarm us, the faithful execution of the quarantine law; and of course the destruction of their favourite doctrine of domestic origination; and for this reason they have had the impudence to condemn the law as an unwarrantable restriction on the freedom of commerce. Fie, for shame, gentlemen, your plot is discovered—Hide yourselves. PHILADELPHUS.
